Million Hit By Tram Strike

MONTREAL (CP)—Huge fleets of trucks, backed by all available taxis and private automobiles, worked today to take some of the edge off a complete tie-up of this city's tram and bus services.
As employees of the Montreal Tramways Company started their third walkout within 47 months, strike-wise Montrealers put into operation plans that had been in the making for the last few days as hopes for settlement of the dispute faded and the conviction grew that another tie-up was inevitable.
The streetcars and buses idle today originally carry more than 1,000,000 persons each day.
Today, the employees of scores of large factories gathered at strategic points throughout the city, to be picked up by fleets of trucks that took thousands to their jobs. The selected corners blossomed out suddenly in the huge signs indicating which company had selected each particular corner as a pick-up point.
Trucks were augmented by taxis and by private vehicles, most of which picked up pedestrians until they were full.
But motorized conveyances could not cope entirely with the problem presented by withdrawal of the city's 1,100 streetcars and buses from their usual runs. Pedestrian traffic swelled as these not fortunate enough to get a lift started hiking to work.
Still other residents, faced with the prospect of walking up to seven or eight miles, merely checked to make sure the strike was definitely on and then went back to bed. Hundreds more converged on half a dozen railway stations within the city area, thankful that incoming suburban trains could at least bring them into the centre of the business district.
All remained quiet on the strike front as noon passed. For the first time, the strikers are not staging the marathon meetings which marked the two previous strikes, but shorter meetings to keep employees acquainted with developments as planned.

Increase 'Smokes' to Wounded

Mrs. S. J. McDonald, centre, presides at Scottish Auxiliary with Mrs. J. H. Maunsell, treasurer, left, and Mrs. W. H. Parker, secretary. Sample Christmas parcels, left, 800 of which will be shipped, cigarette invoices, letters from Normandy highlight activities.

Cigarette shipments to wounded soldiers of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish, now in hospital will be increased from 10,000 to 20,000 a month, according to a decision by the women's auxiliary at their monthly meeting at Government House Wednesday.
Mrs. W. H. Parker, secretary, said this was being done because so many letters of appreciation telling of the cigarette shortage had been received from the wounded since the Scottish went into action on D-Day.
Scottish Comforts Fund received $140 in connection with Spencer's window display. Members expressed gratitude for results of this fund established by the Times.
They also sent thanks to David Spencer Ltd. for co-operation in the window display, to Joe North for donating all proceeds in connection with distribution of his programs at baseball games, and to Master Keith Stuart Robertson, who collected for the fund at the Highland Games.
Members learned the Lions Club has sent four boys, sons of Scottish soldiers now in Normandy, to the Y.M.C.A. camp at Clint Lake. Lions Club has also offered to send four girls to a camp.
Sale of matches brought $87.29 during July. Mrs. G. W. C. MacNeill reported sending the regular shipment of parcels for soldiers without families to the regimental padre for distribution.
Scottish Comforts Fund, all proceeds of which go to buy cigarettes and other comforts for the men of the regiment, stands at $2,126.73 today. Subscriptions may be sent to Kay McIntyre, Times editorial, who is acting as secretary-treasurer.

Fresh Dents Made

In Nazi Defences

About Florence

ROME (AP)—Units of the British-Canadian 8th Army made fresh dents in enemy defences about Florence today. While the Allied 5th Army broke German efforts to send counterattacking troops across the Arno River on either side of besieged Pisa, headquarters said.
The enemy appeared attempting to take the initiative also near the inland wing of the U.S. forces by sending 200 troops to the south bank of the Arno north of Pontedera, but mortar fire dispersed that force.
Attacking north from San Michele and La Romola, 8th Army units captured the commanding heights of La Poggione, 5½ miles southwest of the historic city. New Zealand troops previously had been reported within five miles of the city's outskirts in that area.

ADVANCE ACROSS RIVER

West of Florence, British and Indian troops crossed the Pesa River on a two-mile bridgehead and advanced one mile, capturing the village of Ginestra, three miles southeast of Montelupo, and were threatening the entire west flank of the German line south of the Arno River in that area.

Allied Fleet Out,

Vichy Radio Says

LONDON (AP)—The Vichy radio, in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, asserted today "a large fleet of Allied landing craft is now cruising the Tyrrhenian Sea" and added there were signs that "a new landing in northern Italy or southern France is imminent."
There was no evidence from any other quarters to support the Vichy assertions.
Axis radios on several occasions recently have broadcast similar reports.

LONDON (CP)—The German command today claimed the slaying of 7,300 French underground fighters and the capture of 4,700 since D-Day, June 6.

Siege of Warsaw

Intensified By

New Bridgeheads

LONDON (AP)—The German radio tonight said the Russians had established two strong bridgeheads over the broad and swift Vistula River, one 37 miles south of Warsaw, which was outflanked and besieged from without and within.
As the siege of Warsaw intensified in its fourth day, another Red Army group was battering at the gates of East Prussia from positions three miles from the frontier. East Prussian soil shook to an artillery barrage.
Yet another group of armies beating through the rough hill country north of the Carpathians drove swiftly to within 50 miles of Krakow, fifth city of Old Poland.
In Latvia and Estonia, a Nazi force estimated by Prime Minister Churchill at 20 or 30 divisions, or 300,000 men, was rapidly being squeezed between four Red Army groups, which severed the enemy's landward escape by establishing a ten-mile corridor to the Baltic Sea 35 miles west of Riga.

The German report placed the Russians eight miles west of the Vistula in the Warsaw area, 37 miles below the first Polish city. The other bridgehead was said to be beyond Baranow, 125 miles northeast of Warsaw.
Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky's troops were besieging Warsaw along a 20-mile suburban arc at the eastern fringe of the city of 1,250,000. Inside Warsaw, a Polish underground army of 20,000 was reported by the exiled Polish government in London to be fighting a grim street battle attempting to chip the German garrison into a trap of death on the Vistula.

London Robomb Evacuation

Produces Dramatic Scenes

By ELSIE DANENBERG
Victoria Times Correspondent
LONDON—Back of casual reports of mass evacuation from the London area to escape buzz bombs, are stories of intense drama.
For instance, the day started off peacefully enough with plenty of time for families to reach Paddington Station to make the 8:35 for Cardiff, Wales. Then many women had a premonition of what was to come when it took them 20 minutes in queue to buy a ticket.
When they reached the platform the gatekeeper shouted: "Train's filled to capacity, can't get on!" and closed the gate. It was just 8:40 a.m. More than 100 women and children were left behind, with nothing to do but wait for the 1:55. Those who went to the refreshment corner found this huge crayoned sign: "Queue here for the 1:55." Mep, women and children began "queueing," although the train was not due to leave for five hours.
At 10 a.m. there were 300 waiting. As the hours dragged by, the crowd became more and more dense, the air more and more stifling.
By 1 o'clock the queue had become so unwieldy that guards were called. It stretched around the other shorter queues, people standing 16 abreast, right out to the street. Mothers, worn out from sleepless nights and troubled days, just quietly "folded up."
One-thirty came and with it the announcement that the train was "on." A lad of 12, neatly pressed and dressed suddenly realized that it was time to go and burst into tears.
"I can't go, mummy," he sobbed, his shoulders shaking. "I can't go and leave you with those awful bombs. Don't make me go, mummy. O, don't make me go!"
His mother, fighting desperately to keep back her own tears, put a slender arm around her son, trying to comfort him. "You must go, Ernie. You got to take care of sister while I take care of Dad. It's got to be. You'll be safe with Gram, and I'll be the better thinking on you."
A British Tommy, loaded with pack and gun and fighting equipment of all sorts, leaned over to the boy, said softly: "Buck up, son. Be a good soldier. This is your war job. I'm going on mine now. Come on. Don't let us fella's down."
The boy looked up, swallowed hard, and the trembling lips as he said a smile as he blurted out: "No, Sir, I mean yes, Sir, I'll try."

14-hour Blitz By Robots

Kills 28 in S.E. England

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON (AP)—Flying bombs crashed on London and southern England in salvos for 14 hours today in the longest sustained attack since the Germans fired the first across the Channel seven weeks ago.

At mid-afternoon, the bombardment slackened.

At least 28 persons were killed, raising the total death toll to 4,763.

Ten men repairing bomb damage were killed by a robot in their billet next door to a mortuary containing the bodies of victims of an earlier explosion. Eight others were killed when a group of houses was wrecked, adding to the 817,000 buildings destroyed or damaged since the attacks started June 15.

Some U.S. batteries joined in the defence, shooting in south England during the night.

Anti-aircraft gunners in southern England maintained an almost continuous barrage. Some robots were reported destroyed over the English Channel.

Seven hospitals were hit, 10 patients being killed in one, and explosions covered a wide area. One bomb wrecked a big house 50 yards from a shopping area crowded with women and it was feared—in the permissible phrase—that "there were a number of casualties."

One of the robots struck the wing of a hospital, killing two patients—one a soldier—and seriously injuring three nurses; the blast punctured a water tank on the roof and rescue workers were drenched to the skin as they dug among the debris in a search for victims.

Another bomb fell on a church which had been hit previously, and the explosion damaged a number of surrounding houses.

One area reported the heaviest attacks ever experienced in that sector.

A hospital was damaged by an explosion nearby, and many of the patients were evacuated, though there were no casualties. Damage to the building is estimated at $600,000.

Canadian Drive

Imperils Whole

German Defence

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE (AP)—U.S. forces have thrust south of Rennes, it was announced tonight.

Rapid advances also were scored southeast of Villedieu and Tassy, where it seemed a death-trap had closed around the German rear guard.

Elements of but four German divisions have been identified in Brittany.

A field dispatch by Wes Gallagher of the Associated Press meanwhile said U.S. troops punching northeast of Avranches were within 4½ miles of Vire, where there is a British force. Elements of six German divisions are fleeing through the gap between Vire and Mortain.

A U.S. column has entered Mortain, 12 miles south of Vire. The Germans were fighting to escape under a cloud cover, abandoning guns and equipment as they went.

Prisoners of war for the U.S. 1st Army alone mounted to 70,516. Enemy ordnance pulled into the 1st Army's junk piles in one day included 163 tanks, 54 self-propelled guns, 31 half-tracks and armored cars.

U.S. troops were pushing swiftly toward their old World War base of St. Nazaire, 80 miles from Rennes, which is almost in the centre of the Breton peninsula. Other west-bound columns were reported in the outskirts of Dinan, after an advance of 35 miles from Avranches.

Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley's forces thus had opened a wedge 30 miles deep and 36 miles broad in the heart of Brittany in a series of open-field dashes.

Manifold Thrusts

On 120-Mile Front

Everywhere along a 120-mile front British, Canadian and U.S. forces were stabbing with manifold thrusts into the flanks of a seemingly bewildered enemy. Canadian troops struck out with a new attack below Caen which imperilled the whole Nazi defence in western France.

With the Allied bag of German prisoners taken since D-Day approaching 100,000, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of Allied ground forces in France, told the Associated Press at the front: "We are hitting the hun a good crack."

St. Malo, a highly important port across the bay of St. Michel from Normandy, apparently was being bypassed by the driving U.S. columns which had turned the corner into Brittany.

A great 60-mile pincer started closing on the Germans as the Canadians east of the Orne River lashed out a second time in three days against Tilly la Campagne, key to the Nazi "anti-tank wall" which stopped Gen. Montgomery a week ago. This attack came after a big air and ground bombardment.

U.S. forces near the other end of the Allied line tightened a trap threatening at least two of the Germans' best armored divisions near the old Norman capital of Vire.

(A BBC broadcast heard in New York said the town had been captured, although a dispatch from Associated Press war correspondent Roger D. Greene said spiers still held out on its fringes.)

A U.S. column, moving from the southwest reached St. Pois, 10 miles from Vire—one of Normandy's chief communication centres.

This tightened the drawstring on the German rear guard, including the Elite 2nd and 116th Panzer Divisions, withdrawing in the Vire-Tassy-Villedieu pocket, although they may be able to squeeze out through the 10-mile gap.

Buttles Lake Fire

Now Under Control

Fires at Buttles Lake are under control, the government's forest branch said today.

The fire situation in the whole of the Vancouver forest district has eased somewhat and some lifting of the complete forest closure order may be expected at any time.

45 MILES IN TWO DAYS—To capture Rennes, on the base line of the Breton peninsula, U.S. troops drove 45 miles south-southwest from Avranches, occupied only a couple of days ago. If the drive is carried on to St. Nazaire, not only will that big U-Boat base be taken from the Germans, but the Brittany peninsula will be cut off. Brest is the great port of Brittany.

Maternity Wing Construction To Start Immediately

Work will start almost immediately on construction of Royal Jubilee Hospital's maternity wing. E. W. McMullen, chairman of the board of directors, said today following placement of the contract Wednesday.

Pollard Construction Company of Victoria, headed by J. A. Pollard, was given the contract for $250,477. W. R. Menzies and Company was given a $46,785 contract for plumbing, and Hume and Rumble a $21,197 contract for electrical work.

Total cost of the new wing, which will be a separate building, connected with the main hospital block by underground passage, will be $318,429, of which the provincial government will pay one-third — $106,000. Premier John Hart having agreed this week to and $56,000 to the $50,000 the government gave the Jubilee some months ago.

Plans for the new wing, which will have nursery accommodation for 90 babies, and will be able to take care of nearly 100 patients in an emergency, were prepared by Henry C. Whittaker, supervising architect for the B.C. government.

Work will take about eight months, which means the wing will be formally opened about next Easter. When it is completed it will release for general purposes nearly 80 beds in the main hospital's fourth floor, which has been used as an obstetrical section.

Manchuria Raid 'Important Blow'

WASHINGTON (AP). — The B-29 Superfortresses which struck the Japanese steel works at Asahikawa in Manchuria, scored direct hits on coke ovens and other factory buildings in an important blow at the enemy's war-making capacity, War Secretary
Stimson reported today.

Stimson told a news conference the attack was carried out by a "substantial" force of the U.S. army's new super bombers,
which hit Asahikawa and Tangku,
the port of Tientsin in occupied
China, July 29.

PORTLAND (AP). — A map-and an estimated $7,000 to $10,000 more is believed buried in the day.

The attorney handling the estate is maintaining secrecy to protect the premises from "volunteer" treasure hunters, the newspaper said.

Truman Resigns From War Committee

WASHINGTON (AP). — Over the protest of committee colleagues, Chairman Truman (D.
Mo.) resigned today from the Senate War Investigating Committee.

Simultaneously with Truman's action, Hugh Fulton turned in his resignation as chief counsel of the group.

Truman said both Republicans and Democrats on the committee urged him to remain as chairman at a 40-minute closed meeting this morning but that he told them
"it would not be fair to the committee, because everything I would say might be construed as political, in view of my candidacy for the Vice-Presidency."

Truman said the committee would meet again tomorrow to choose a new chairman.

Drew Challenges Federal Right On Family Allowances

RICHMOND HILL, Ont. (CP).
—Premier Drew of Ontario said
Wednesday night that in the Family Allowance Bill which has been passed by the House of Commons Prime Minister King
"has treated our clearly-defined constitutional rights with arrogant contempt." He added that the Ontario government will "resist, in every way possible, this carefully-planned attempt to break our constitution by a steady process of attrition."

Addressing a Progressive Conservative rally in this York County town, the Ontario premier said that while the province had not been consulted on the bill, it was committed to pay $100,000,000, half the total cost of the allowance scheme. If that money were handled by the provincial government, expenditure of $45,000,000 would provide family allowances for Ontario on a more generous scale than under the federal legislation and the remaining $55,000,000 could be used for educational and health services, highway construction and debt reduction.

"These are the things the people of Ontario would have for the same $100,000,000 if we retain control over the social services which was given to us by the British North America Act.
That is why the government of Ontario will not concur in any such high-handed procedure."

Plan to Stabilize Fish Prices Approved By M.P.'s

Fund of $25,000,000 Set Aside; Export Credit Insurance Passed

OTTAWA (CP) — With the blessing of members of Parliament from both the east and west coasts, the House of Commons Wednesday night placed its approval on a bill to assure stable prices for fish in the period of transition from war to peace. The House advanced two important pieces of postwar legislation dealing with fish prices and export trade.

The Export Credits Insurance bill passed through third reading and the Fish Floor Prices Bill received second reading.

The export trade legislation is designed to set up a corporation to insure exporters against inability to collect the price of the products sold whether from the insolvency of the purchaser, currency fluctuations or inability of the purchaser to pay due to government restrictions.

It also authorizes the government to lend money to other governments or their agencies to enable them to purchase goods produced in Canada and guarantee the securities of other governments and their agencies issued on account of the purchase of Canadian goods.

Fisheries Minister Bertrand on his Floor Prices Bill said it might never be necessary to use the $25,000,000 fund provided for the purchase of fish should prices fall to unduly low levels.

The bill, however, would offer security to fishermen on the same basis as the bill already passed to provide a floor for farm prices.

A. W. Neill, Ind., Comox-Alberni, thought the board of three to administer the scheme was not large enough to give proper representation to producers on both coasts. As conditions were different on the Atlantic and Pacific he urged two boards be created, one for each area.

Mr. Bertrand said he was prepared to accept suggestions that the proposed board of three was not large enough to handle the legislation properly and when the bill was in committee he moved an amendment increasing the number to "not more than five."

R. W. Mayhew, L., Victoria, said while supporting the bill that he spoke for the fishermen of Nanaimo, as well as for those of his own constituency, since their own member, Maj. Alan Chambers, was absent on active service.

George Cruickshank, Liberal member for Fraser Valley, said he wished to support the legislation in his own name and in the name of Mr. James Sinclair, L., Vancouver North, and Thomas Reid, L., New Westminster.

Mr. Cruickshank said that if the legislation had been in effect many years ago "H. R. McMillan (wealthy British Columbia businessman) would be working for Cruickshank."

His father, Alex Cruickshank, began a fishing career on the west coast in 1887. But in those days the price of fish dropped every time the fishing vessel came back to port with a load. Fish would sell for 18 cents a pound one day and drop to six cents the next day with the arrival of the boat.

"If this legislation had been in effect then H. R. McMillan would be sweeping out my office tomorrow," he said.

H.M.C.S. Petrolia Commissioned

OTTAWA (CP) — The navy announces commissioning at a British port recently of H.M.C.S. Petrolia, the latest of Canada's big new "Castle" class corvettes, which were received from Britain in exchange for Canadian-built minesweepers.

The officer complement of the Petrolia includes: 1st Lieut. B. L. Martin of Winnipeg, and engineer officer, Warrant Engineer A. S. R. Rees, Vancouver.

Mines Must Move

Selective Service officials say 125 coal miners employed at No. 8 mine near Nanaimo, which will close shortly, must remain in the industry even if it means they must move temporarily to other parts of B.C.

The miners, who are to be moved to mines at Cumberland, objected to leaving their homes.

$2,280,000,000 Added to Budgets Of Next Five Years

OTTAWA (CP) — Bill by bill passed at the present session of Parliament adds to the amount of money the government of Canada is pledged to spend or guarantee in the postwar period.

On the strength of legislation before parliament now or passed the government is committed to a grand total of $2,280,000,000 for the five-year period starting July 1, 1945. That is in addition to the ordinary running expenditures of Canada which make up the budget year by year.

If a national health insurance scheme becomes a reality in the near future the total will be $2,725,000,000.

Most of this total is money the government is to guarantee when loaned by other agencies, but family allowances at $200,000,000 a year will take $1,000,000,000 in cash outlays in five years and health insurance and health grants to provinces on the plan being considered would require $343,750,000 in five years.

By guaranteeing new credit arrangements for farmers and industrialists the government this session has placed a maximum total of $1,200,000,000 behind the economic structure of Canada.

AID FOR EXPORTERS

Here is the way this total is made up:

Capital stock of Export Credit Insurance Corporation $5,000,000; loans to this corporation up to $25,000,000; guarantees of credit for foreign governments purchasing goods in Canada up to $200,000,000; loans to other governments to enable them to purchase goods in Canada up to $100,000,000.

Housing loans to home-owners up to $110,000,000; housing loans to builders of housing for rental $50,000,000; grants to municipalities for slum clearance $20,000,000; assistance towards rural housing, maximum liability $5,000,000; guarantee of loans for housing improvements up to $100,000,000.

Revolving fund for floor under farm prices $200,000,000; revolving fund for floor under fish prices $25,000,000.

Capital for the Industrial Development Bank to be subscribed or guaranteed by the government $100,000,000; guarantees to banks against loss on farm improvement loans up to $250,000,000.

Statistics Bureau Editor, James Muir, Dies

OTTAWA (CP) — James Muir, 73, editor of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics publications and a former managing editor of the Ottawa Journal, died Wednesday night after a short illness. Born and educated in Scotland, he started a newspaper career in London, Eng., and came to Canada in 1902 to write a series of articles on lumbering. He remained in the Dominion and worked on Toronto and Montreal newspapers before coming to Ottawa in 1904. For a time he operated a newspaper at Almonte, Ont., and then returned to Ottawa as a member of the Parliamentary Press Gallery. He joined the Bureau of Statistics staff in 1931.

For some years he was an alderman and controller in the Ottawa city council.

He is survived by his wife, four daughters and two sons.

CHANCE FOR LEADERSHIP

FOR A BRIEF PERIOD ON TUESDAY afternoon the subject of amalgamating the four municipalities of the Greater Victoria region came out of its pigeonhole for an airing. The mayor of the city and the reeves of Oak Bay and Esquimalt waited on the Premier of the province to discuss the matter. But we are not greatly surprised that little or no progress resulted. The civic officials favored a government-appointed commission to examine the proposal and submit recommendations for legislative action—without submission of the principle in the first place to the municipal electors. Before the civic elections last December, the mayor promised to recommend an appeal to the government for such an inquiring body. He repeated it at the beginning of the year and coupled with it his announcement that he had appointed an inter-municipal committee which he hoped "will make every effort to get action on the subject." As we said in these columns at the time:

"This is satisfactory so far as it goes. Before the government could consider a request of this kind, of course, all the municipalities involved would have to agree on the general principle—an elementary consideration on which His Worship requires no tutelage."

As a result of Tuesday's conference, therefore, Mr. Hart could do no more than assure the delegation that he would be prepared to initiate legislation at the next session of the House only if such reflected the expressed will of the people of the three municipalities represented in the present phase of the discussion. Saanich, for reasons not at all clear, had previously intimated its disinclination to identify itself with the request. What is now plain to all concerned is that the Premier will take no action which conceivably could be interpreted as an interference with an issue which is the right privilege and duty of the civic electors to decide for themselves. Nor do we believe the voters of either Victoria, Oak Bay or Esquimalt are in the mood to forego their prerogatives in this or any other matter of such vital concern to the future conduct of their affairs—even though the great majority of them may agree that action toward the main objective is overdue.

Despite the fact that such action will have to proceed along clearly-defined democratic lines, it is all to the good that Mayor McGavin has again emphasized views which he enunciated at a meeting of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee in May last year. It should be noted, moreover, that even since he first officially espoused the cause of amalgamation the ever-haunting menace of the "it-can't-be-done" brigade has hung over him like the sword of Damocles. Much of this hampering influence could have been disposed of long ago if his inter-municipal committee had bestirred itself. It has done nothing. Now that His Worship has felt obliged to take the bit in his own teeth, as it were, he might do worse than recall a suggestion we made here on May 6, 1943, which read:

"That the Mayor of Victoria forthwith take counsel with a group of representative progressive citizens in each municipality and try to get them in the mood to sit down at a conference table and discuss this matter freely and frankly—as at least one practical approach to the problems which this and other cities will inherit when the fighting ceases. Such a plan as Mayor McGavin envisages may meet with opposition. But many problems that frightened statesmen and lesser lights almost to death a year or so ago have succumbed to the practical application of commonsense. Some of the previously perplexed ones have since wondered why such jobs had not been tackled before."

The whole question, then, is one to which the mayor and council should address themselves without delay. The aldermanic body could use some of the time it often employs on less constructive business to an intelligent study of this important aspect of community government. It is much further ahead than it was, since Reeve Woodhouse and Reeve Hadfield, as well as Mayor McGavin, obviously realize the need for action, not only in the interests of civic economy, but also as a contributing factor to postwar progress generally.

SHOULD MENTION VICTORIA

IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT ANOTHER moving picture is being made in or near Victoria with the use of one or more of Canada's fighting services it is to be hoped that the directors and officials in charge will see to it that such explanatory references as to the production of the film will give Victoria, the capital city of British Columbia, its rightful mention. We refer to this matter now for the simple reason that practically all the newspaper and magazine articles—due no doubt to insufficient emphasis on the locale selected for the portrayal of the story—in connection with "Commandos Strike At Dawn" either ignored this city or called the scene Vancouver or Vancouver Island. On this occasion, however, we may assume that the provincial Travel Bureau and the publicity department of the Chamber of Commerce are advising the movie people on these details. They are important to this community, even though they may seem relatively insignificant to our welcome visitors.

COLD-BLOODED MURDER

PERHAPS THERE ARE A FEW PEOPLE in this country who will feel like saying forget and forgive when the German militarists are biting the dust. But it can be assumed that no member of the House of Commons heard Mr. Mackenzie King's account of the atrocious murder of an officer and 18 other ranks of the Canadian Army without making a mental resolve to give no quarter to mawkish sentimentality when the day of retribution for the Nazi assassins comes round.

What ought to be remembered by all the peoples of the United Nations is that the great majority of the men who are fighting Hitler's war on the various battlefronts are the products of the Fuehrer's concept of a master race. They have not come by their brutal savagery through accident; they are for the most part former members of the Hitler Jugend—the organization which got hold of German youth in its most impressionable period and trained it to revel in all forms of devilry. The murder of 19 unarmed and helpless Canadian prisoners is far from repugnant to them; they regard it as an integral part of a ritualistic observance which glorifies the Hitlerian philosophy. And there is a school of thought, perhaps not very influential, which trifles with the idea that these Germans with the warped mentality are more to be pitied than blamed. This is sheer poppycock. The whole system which has been drilled into the German people and accepted without serious challenge will have to be destroyed root and branch.

In his allusion to the robot planes yesterday, incidentally, Mr. Churchill said what needed to be said: "The only result of the use of this indiscriminate weapon as far as they are concerned will be that the severity of the punishment which they will receive after their weapons have been struck from their hands by our fighting men will be appreciably increased."

CIVILIAN-GOODS PRODUCTION

BRITAIN HAS DECIDED AGAINST AN immediate resumption of civilian goods production, such as the War Production Board has ordered in the United States. There are obviously several reasons for the British decision; but the major one, of course, is that the United Kingdom feels obliged to maintain production of all materials required for its intensified war against Japan when Hitler throws in the sponge or his armies are decisively defeated in battle. The announcement from London yesterday that Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, former commander-in-chief of the British Home Fleet, to be commander-in-chief of the British Eastern Fleet suggests that the program for Anglo-American naval collaboration in Asia-Pacific waters is about to take shape.

In any case, a widely-read United States commentator, noting the British decision against resumption of civilian-goods production, has this to say: "Here is an answer to those Americans who have questioned Britain's promises, who have argued that the war against Germany is not 'our war,' and that we should have left England to her fate while we concentrated on Japan. Britain has given notice that her long-suffering people will do without a little longer so that when the time comes she may be able to turn her full weight of labor, arms and men to the Pacific for victory in the common cause."

Nor should it be forgotten that in May last year, Mr. Churchill informed both Houses of Congress in Washington that should the war in Europe be won first, Britain would throw her full weight into the conflict with Japan. Less than six weeks later he reiterated that pledge in the House of Commons in the following terms:

"Every man, every ship, every airplane in the King's service will be sent and there maintained in action by the people of the British Commonwealth and Empire in priorities for as many years as are needed to make the Japanese in their turn submit or bite the dust."

Whatever our neighbor's W.P.B. does in this election year, of course, is the business of the United States. But in this global war, with all its ramified implications, internal and external policies which have the least bearing on the general prosecution of the campaign against both members of the Axis become the interest of the United Nations as a whole.

BANK DEPOSITS GROW

AT THE END OF APRIL, THE TOTAL volume of bank deposits in Canada amounted to $4,241,000,000. This represented an increase of $124,000,000 over the previous month and an increase of $514,000,000 over the total volume of deposits in April last year. As compared with a year ago, demand deposits in April were $187,000,000 larger while savings deposits showed an increase of $327,000,000.

On the asset side, government securities experienced a substantial increase during the past year. At the end of April, holdings of short-term government securities by the chartered banks were $210,000,000 larger than a year ago. Long-term securities during the same period showed an increase of $314,000,000. On the other hand, the volume of loans declined to $867,000,000 in April from $931,000,000 in March and from $905,000,000 in April last year.

The increase in the volume of deposits during the past year, therefore, was due to increased holdings of government securities by the chartered banks and not to an increase in loans. This was a development which has occurred in all belligerent countries.

The large volume of deposits at the disposal of industry and trade as well as of the people at large leads to the belief that the volume of bank loans will not expand greatly even after the war. The prospect is that deposits will provide most of the funds required by business in the postwar period when commodities are again freely available.

German Generals

By CONSTANTINE BROWN
PREFERS TO SURRENDER TO RUSSIANS FOR REASONS which form the subject of intense speculation in military and political quarters, German generals on the eastern front have preferred in the last few weeks to surrender rather than avail themselves of the chance of escaping the Russians. Between July 10 and 24 no fewer than 22 German generals, ranging from army commanders such as Infantry Gen. Gollwitzer, commander of the German 53rd Army, and Lt. Gen. von Luetzow, commander of the 52nd Army, to major and brigadier generals, have either been captured or have surrendered. At no time during this war or the last have the Allies captured such an imposing array of German gold braid in such a short time.

The outside world does not yet know how many headlines of the Wehrmacht have been executed by the Gestapo. According to reports from neutral countries, Marshal Sigmund von List, whom Heinrich Himmler hated personally, is among those not now living.

List, Austrian by birth, who joined the German army before the World War, hated Gestapo methods in Poland while he was commander-in-chief there. Grievous treatment of the civilian population by the Gestapo agents aroused his indignation. In 1939 he asked Hitler to transfer him to another command or to place Himmler's men under his direct orders so they could become security agents in the strict military meaning of the word. List was transferred from Poland early in 1940.

Now that Himmler has become the principal lieutenant of the Fuehrer and the Nazi hierarchy is fast replacing the regular army men, the German generals may have decided to surrender, preferring defeat at the hands of foreign powers to butchery on the home and battle fronts.

THERE have been fewer desertions in the ranks of the high command on the western front because there are many more "Party" generals in that area.

The surrendering generals all seem to have a distinct preference for the Russians because Premier Stalin has set up the Free

German Committee, which is receiving all dissatisfied officers and men with open arms. More well-known German officers are answering the call of the organizer of that committee, Lt. Gen. Walther von Seydlitz. Among those newly arrived in Gen. von Seydlitz's camp are Maj. Gen. von Lenski and Maj. Gen. Mueller-Buelow, the latter an offspring of the famous family which for many years has given Germany a number of distinguished statesmen and generals.

MILITARY observers believe the wholesale desertions or surrenders may not have a telling effect on the morale of the Germans since the rank and file is formed by men who have been following Hitler with fanatical devotion and are glad to be commanded by 100 per cent Nazis rather than by the stuffy old aristocrats.

Others interpret the still obscure developments as indicating an early disintegration. Fanatical Hitlerites have disappeared, particularly on the eastern front. Flower of the German army has been destroyed in the five years of fighting. Total mobilization has incorporated into the fighting forces all men up to 45. They are willing to fight for the Fatherland, but as a rule give up more easily than the fanatical youngsters. But loyal Nazis will try to continue the fight to the bitter end in the west.

A TRIBUTE TO VICTORIA

By HOWARD CARL ERICSON
SEATTLE.

Summer is the time for visiting new places and old familiar scenes; it is the time for relaxation and for the creation of travel memories that will enrich the months to come. Victoria offers just such opportunities in unending variety.

From the moment your graceful steamer glides into the harbor, through the hours or days of your entire visit, until in the afternoon when your ship departs, you experience that charm, that gracious hospitality, that incomparable beauty few cities have the good fortune to possess.

We enjoy the trolley rides that afford scenic views of wooded shoreline, sea and mountains; golf courses that encourage players to hit the ball straight and far; the bathing beaches filled, in warm weather, with bronzed and carefree swimmers; the dignified grey stone government buildings, and the stores with their rare linens, china and other articles made by patient hands of workmen whose skill has the background of many generations.

The Empress Hotel with its fine guest rooms and spacious public halls is particularly inviting. Its picture-hung, paneled dining-room is famed for its cuisine and service. It is a pleasure to eat there at a white-lined table and to look out over the harbor, whether it is breakfast, lunch or dinner time. The view of the ships at anchor, arriving and departing, is always fascinating, but when sunset tinges the sky with crimson and gold the sight is one of majestic splendor. Strolling among the colorful flowers that add brilliance to the tree-shaded and shrubbery-bordered lawns is likewise alluring. Nearby is another favorite attraction, the conservatory-like Crystal Garden with its promenades and swimming pool.

Victoria, everyone finds, is an ideal place to spend a vacation, a city of which its residents can well be proud!

QUEBEC'S ISOLATIONIST PARTIES

From Montreal Gazette (Cons.)

Quebec Conservatives have disappeared. The Union Nationale is what its name implies, a union of nationalists. And the Bloc Populaire, organizing powerfully on a purely racial appeal, goes farther in its nationalism and opposition to the war than the party of Maurice Duplessis. It is waging an insidious campaign that is anti-British, anti-Canadian, anti-democratic. Its strength at the polls is unknown, but its appeal to the ultra-nationalists is strong.

News Analysis—The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Allies continue to tear into the disorganized Nazi ranks on the invasion front of France, and a late dispatch from British headquarters in Normandy says this is the beginning of "the great retreat."

The cold fact is the Germans are up against an overwhelming strength in both men and material which have been poured across the bloody beachheads of Normandy.

Hitler's fighting machine in France is beginning to break up. Just as it is doing on the eastern front.

With the Russian armies slashing Hitler's entire line to ribbons, and today at the very border of the "sacred soil" of East Prussia, Hitler can't spare troops from the eastern theatre to bolster his hard-pressed forces in France. And he has nothing like enough troops or equipment in the west to protect himself for long.

At latest reports the Germans had on the Normandy front a total of 28 divisions of various categories, including four panzer units and some infantry divisions which are partly armored. Thirteen of these divisions have been on the British-Canadian sector and 15 on the U.S. sector. It is impossible to estimate accurately the number of troops involved, because many divisions are under normal quota. Perhaps there has been a minimum of a quarter million men.

The Germans claim the Allies have 50 divisions in Normandy. If that is so it might mean close to 700,000 men. When you consider the Germans have only about 65 divisions in western Europe, Hitler's problem becomes doubly clear, for he has many points to protect against further Allied invasions.

The drive of the U.S. forces into Brittany is eased greatly by the fact the Germans had to withdraw forces from there to meet the Allied onslaught in Normandy. This withdrawal also lessens the danger of a heavy German counterattack from Brittany against the Allies' right wing now emerging from Normandy.

ADVICE ON THE FRENCH

France has been represented too often in fiction as a frivolous nation where sly winks and coy pats on the rear are the accepted form of address. You'd better get rid of such notions right now. —Army's invasion guidebook.

From Fergus News-Record

A horse being shod in Kraft's blacksmith shop in Elora fell through to the cellar when the floor gave way. It was a drop of six feet, but the horse was more frightened than hurt. After everything else failed, a trench was dug into the cellar from the back of the shop and the horse was able to walk out.

Thousands of people are being denied telephone service these days, not because of one shortage but because of many, all due to the war. And by no means least of the difficulties is the lack of central office equipment—switchboard, dial mechanism and so on.

There can be no change in the situation for the present, because factories that used to produce telephone equipment are now needed to fill war orders. In the meantime, essential needs, particularly those in connection with the war effort, must come first.

Olson Arena Offer Tabled; Ask Municipalities Aid Fair

The City Council, sitting in committee of the whole, Wednesday, heard H. B. "Barney" Olson's proposals to rent a combined horse show-skating rink building at the Willows, if it is rebuilt, and tabled the material for later discussion. It will be reconsidered when the council meets the citizens' arena committee to consider the plans advanced by that group.

In the meantime, the council, on a motion by Ald. Archie Wills, instructed the B.C. Agricultural Association committee to interview councils of surrounding municipalities to see if they favored re-establishment of the annual fall fair. If they do, the committee will ask what financial assistance they are prepared to give the city for the fair. The city, he said, had to pay over $3,000 a year in taxes to Oak Bay on the exhibition grounds.

Their position, Ald. Wills said, would be a major factor in convincing him of the value of rebuilding the horse show building and continuing the fairs.

A letter was read from Mr. Olson outlining his offer to give the city $18,000 in advance rent for 10 years' use of the proposed arena-horse show building, where he would install an ice plant. His suggestion that he be allowed to make ice for domestic use was not material and could be ignored, he said. He also asked a 10-year renewal option of his proposed lease at $150 a month. The advance rent and $65,000 insurance money on the old plant would provide $83,000 towards construction of a $100,000 building, he said.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden asked if the city was not under some obligation to the citizens' committee. That matter was noted.

WANTS DOWNTOWN SITE

Ald. Ed. Williams urged a long view on the issue, with provision of a downtown arena and auditorium. He was, he said, not in sympathy with the Olson suggestion. If fairs were to be resumed, a horse show building should be built, the alderman said.

Ald. D. D. McTavish said re-establishment of fairs could be expected in the near future. A horse show building was needed, and if it could be combined with a rink, the proposal might solve a lot of the city's difficulties.

Ald. Gadsden supported a downtown arena.

In reply to Ald. John A. Worthington, F. L. Shaw, city solicitor, said the city could not build an arena outside the city's boundaries, but could rebuild the horse show building.

ARENA FIGURES

Mr. Olson quoted figures on his operation of the arena, saying after paying himself a $6,600 salary each year, he has grossed $41,000 in his first year at the Willows and had shown a profit of only $3,800. In his second year the gross had been $38,000 and the net $100. Last year, he said, he broke even.

His plan, he said, entailed installation of a $35,000 ice plant and a $10,000 maple floor.

Those planning an arena, Mr. Olson said, should remember hockey similar to that played two seasons ago would not be available here in the future owing to economic considerations.

He agreed the arena should be downtown, but said it would be an expensive proposition in such a location.

Ald. Wills again raised the question of the citizens' committee representations, noting they had just to put down $60,000 and a different complex would be placed on the whole matter.

In discussions, Mr. Olson advocated a building with seats on three sides, and said he was certain anyone building a rink could secure cement from the B.C. Cement Co. Ltd. virtually as a gift for the benefit of children who would use the rink.

The motions to table his letter and to make inquiries among other municipalities regarding the fair were carried.

Council Approves New Hospital Site

At the request of Ald. J. A. Worthington, the City Council in committee Wednesday voiced accord with Jubilee Hospital authorities' plans to provide a site for the Department of Pensions and National Health 250-bed hospital here.

The plan, announced in the Times Tuesday, would place the new unit in the Isolation Hospital section of the Jubilee grounds.

The council's resolution Wednesday voiced agreement to place it "on any land now vacant on the old Isolation Hospital site."

Extend Wage Boosts To More City Staffs

All city departments covered by this year's 6 per cent wage increase, or equivalent raises, appeared due for an additional 4 per cent as the result of action taken by the City Council in committee of the whole Wednesday.

A recommendation to bring the increases up to 10 per cent, presented by Ald. Ed. Williams, was given informal approval and left for final consideration when the council sits in general session Monday.

It would, in effect, place other departments which had already been assisted on par with police and fire departments, which have already received the 10 per cent scale.

Ald. Williams said the blanket scheme, which excludes the inside staff on the grounds the salary schedule for that class of employee should be observed, was proposed to avoid recurrent applications by chairmen of different departments throughout the year.

D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, told the council its 6 per cent increase had raised the wage of common laborers to a point $62 a year above that of Vancouver, and the 10 per cent would put the annual income of that class $100 to $105 above the Vancouver scale.

Unconscious 3 Days, Dies of Injuries

Lawrence Jamieson, 27, 2335 Howard Street, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday afternoon without recovering consciousness from the time of the accident Sunday, when his motorcycle crashed into the side of a street car, until the time of his death.

An Inquest will be held in the funeral chapel Friday morning at 10.

Alfred Lalonde, 211 Wilson Street, passenger on the motorcycle, who was also injured, is reported to be showing continued improvement.

Foreign Dishes Brighten Our Canadian Meals

By MARY BALDWIN
Consultant in Nutrition
HOW ABOUT suggestions from the international front? Food customs are as much a part of an individual as his habit of speech or his mode of dress. What better way to become acquainted with the people of other lands than to try some of their national dishes? First we bring you a Hungarian recipe for fish. Hungarian food is spicy and rich, just like the Hungarian temperament.

FISH PAPRIKAS (SERVES 4-6)

1 lb. raw fish
2 cups cooked diced potatoes
1 onion
3 sprigs parsley
4 teaspoons oil
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 lemon
Salt

Mince onion fine and brown in oil. Flake fish; add to onion. Cook for three minutes, turning frequently. Add chopped parsley, potatoes, paprika and salt. Cook for 15 minutes. Garnish with onion and lemon when served.

We often think of the Italian diet as consisting of large quantities of starchy food. This is, however, an erroneous belief and even the Italian peasant is able to eat in normal times in Italy to have a well-balanced diet of foods produced in his own country. Milk and cheese, fruits and vegetables, meat and eggs assure the protective foods in the diet. Try this Italian dessert which is eaten hot and makes a very tasty sauce for sponge cake.

ZABAIONI

3 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 cup fruit juice or Commercial wine flavoring.
Beat egg yolks and sugar until very thick. Add cinnamon and fruit juice or wine flavoring gradually. Place bowl in saucepan containing hot water and continue beating over fire until sugar dissolves and mixture becomes thickened like custard. This is eaten hot and may be used as sauce for sponge cake.

Mexican food, customs, centuries old, have come down through the ages from the Indians and the Spanish. Three foods form the basis of Mexican cooking. These are cornmeal, chilies and beans. The tortilla which is used in place of bread is not very different from that which the Aztecs were eating when Cortez conquered Mexico. Tortillas are generally made from oatmeal, but as this is scarce at Noel and Carl Noel, uncles of the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where they were assisted in receiving the guests by the mother of the bride, Walter Luney, an old friend of the family, proposed the toast to the bride.

Going away, the bride wore a four-piece suit of mist blue wool lined with cerise satin, navy accessories, and a corsage bouquet of cerise roses. They will make their home at Smithers, B.C.

GAISER-DENTON

Elmore Isabella, only daughter of Mrs. V. L. Denton, 1870 Cochran Street, and the late Dr. V. L. Denton, exchanged nuptial vows Wednesday evening at the home of her mother, with Sgt. Arthur William Gaiser, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gaiser, Exeter, Ont. Rev. G. Reynolds performed the ceremony and Mrs. C. S. Beals played the wedding march.

An Empress gown of white satin with a bowl neckline gathered on each shoulder with seed pearls, was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Lawrence J. Denton. Her hand-embroidered French veil was floor-length and she carried a white prayer book topped with pink roses and show-

J. F. Sallaway Dies In South; Teacher Here Over 40 Years

A link with Victoria's early educational life was severed Wednesday, with the death in Santa Barbara, California, of Joseph Frederick Sallaway in his 86th year.

Born in London, England, Mr. Sallaway arrived in this city in 1887, and immediately resumed his teaching profession at a branch school. His association with the scholastic life of Victoria continued for 43 years until his retirement in June, 1930, following which he joined his wife in Riverside, where he had resided until his passing.

Mr. Sallaway was principal of Victoria West School for 13 years and held the same position at the Quadra Street institution. His last school was Boys' Central, a school he had formerly been associated with earlier in his career.

Many of Victoria's prominent business men were pupils of the late Mr. Sallaway and, in many cases he had taught both parents and their children.

He was a past master of Victoria-Columbia Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

Surviving are his widow, four sons, Henry M. and William M. of Victoria; Thomas of Lake Cowichan, George F. of Santa Barbara, Calif., and three daughters, Mrs. W. C. Hillier of Salinas, Calif., and Mrs. C. A. Grabendike and Mrs. Vernon Lawson, both of Riverside. Funeral services will be held Monday at Riverside.

Final Social Events

Informal get-togethers for staff and students mark the final week of summer school at Victoria High School this week.

Tuesday at 11, coffee was served in the ladies' staff room following a short meeting held by faculty members.

In the afternoon students of two library courses joined together to give a tea in honor of Miss B. Muriel Caruthers, of Vancouver, instructor in the cafeteria. During the evening there was a "splash party" at the Crystal Garden when swimmers competed in aquatic games, races and other contests.

Children of the demonstration class will be entertained in the cafeteria Friday morning, and the final social event of the session will be the annual dance at the Empress Hotel Friday evening.

In the western sector Allied armored formations have progressed beyond Pontorson while other forces are approaching St. Pois and advancing southwest of Breezy. The town of Villedieu has been captured and further progress has been made south of Torigni.

Our air operations were limited by the weather.

Call Veterans Of Present War To Aid Recruits

By FOSTER BARCLAY

CAMP BORDEN MILITARY CAMP, Ont. (CP)—There's still a place in the Canadian Army for battle-tested veterans of this war—passing along their experiences and knowledge to recruits training in Canada to reinforce troops in France and Italy.

An appeal to veterans to come forward and help prepare reinforcements for big battles ahead was made here by Maj. Gen. F. F. Worthington, General Officer in Command, Camp Borden. The need for reinforcements with practical knowledge of field conditions now was greater than ever.

NEED EXPERIENCE

Gen. Worthington, commander of a Canadian armored division overseas until he took over his present command last May, stressed the importance of "battle experience" in present-day training.

"There's no need to send reinforcements into battle lacking the knowledge of front-line conditions," he said.

Gen. Worthington said he sympathized with the attitude of veterans who returned home from the wars, fed up and bored after weeks and sometimes months in hospital and none too happy about returning to civilian life with the smell of battle still in their nostrils. In addition, there was little glamour about hum-drum job as instructor at a training centre.

However, they should know better than anyone just how necessary it is for recruits to have a practical knowledge of the front-line conditions," he continued. "They were among those who have complained when soldiers were sent forward as replacements, untried and not knowing what they had to face or expect."

"It is up to them—their duty—to come back into the army and pass along what they have learned in bitter combat. They know the conditions recruits will have to face."

Fatigue Egotism Verboten in Reich

LONDON (AP)—Heinrich Himmler, as commander-in-chief of the German home army, has demanded that every officer and man renounce "all egotism and that damned spirit of fatigue," Berlin broadcasts said today.

The command was given in an order of the day in which Himmler openly acknowledged Germany's manpower shortage by demanding that "each officer and man who can be spared at home be sent to the front."

Battle in Albania

LONDON (CP)—German forces launched a new offensive against Yugoslav Partisan forces in Albania and bitter fighting is now raging in the Elbasan area about 50 miles inland from the coast. A broadcast communique from Marshal Tito's headquarters today said the Nazis were employing two divisions recently moved from Greece.

9-Year-Old Raises $93 for Red Cross

Little Donald West, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. West, Veauvius Bay, has just handed over to the Ganges Unit of the Red Cross $93, realized by the sale of flowers he grew. Earlier in the season he grew $43.60 to the same fund, making a total of $93 this year.

Sues for Name

Screen actress Lorraine Miller had no objections to being advertised as "the most cuddle-some blonde" or to the picture of herself, above, being sent to servicemen as a pin-up. But when she learned it had been issued with another girl's name on it, she was terribly, terribly hurt. Hurt $50,000 worth, it seems, as that's the amount of damages she's suing for.

Drunk Nazi Mad

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE (AP)—A German sniper grew tired of sitting in his meadow, and wandered into U.S. lines, cheerfully waving his near-empty bottle. In broken English he asked doughboys to have a drink with him and was hurt, puzzled and angry when they refused and placed him in a prisoners' enclosure.

$1,000,000 Fishway

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Contract for construction of the automatic Hell's Gate fishway, in the Fraser River, first of its kind in the world, will be let this week, International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission announces. Cost is estimated at $1,000,000.

Died Together

HANNA, Alta. (CP)—Bodies of Keith, 9, and Vaughn, 7, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beard Tucker of Hanna, drowned here Tuesday, were found clinging to each other. It is believed the children intended to wade across the narrow end of a dam, on their way to the fair grounds.

Canadians Passed This Way

A scene of desolation is this section of Hitler's West Wall. The photograph was taken shortly after Canadians went through during their hard-hitting drive up the invasion beaches of France. Note two direct hits in the buildings and the abandoned German dugout. The lone Canadian soldier has found himself a chair and apparently is going to take it easy in the Nazi-built dugout.

Fete Raises $132

The sum of $132 was realized at the garden party held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. K. Frost, under the auspices of Columbia Unit of the Red Cross.

Miss W. Seymour, convener, introduced Mrs. L. W. Miller, who opened the fete, and little Sylvia Rodd presented Mrs. Miller with a bouquet. Mrs. H. C. Pearce and Mrs. Stewart Clark from headquarters accompanied Mrs. Miller. Games were supervised by W. C. Scott, R. Knight, G. Eves, Mr. C. Scott, and Canon H. V. Hitchcox. Odds and ends stall was in charge of Mrs. T. Whelden and Mrs. E. Robinson who also looked after the bran-tub.

Sewing stall was presided over by Mrs. J. McNair-Paterson and Mrs. G. Plater and the home cooking stall was cared for by Mrs. J. Clark and Mrs. F. Dann.

Cold drinks and candy were dispensed by June and Shirley Knowlton and Mrs. H. Savage ran the wheel of fortune. Mrs. C. A. Berry was the "lady of 100 pockets" while Mrs. W. C. Scott and Mrs. G. Crozier sold tea tickets.

The tearoom was looked after by Mrs. F. Stacey, Mrs. R. Wilkinson, Misses Kate and Edith Brown, Mrs. J. Partridge, Mrs. M. W. Sommers, Mrs. J. Rodd, Mrs. A. Willis, Joan and Hilda Moss and Mrs. Moss. Miss Mamie McAllister piped for the dances given by Christine Boyd and Ronnie Marrs. Marilyn Bassett, ballet dancer, Mrs. J. K. Frost, hostess, and Miss Seymour received the guests.

Nova Scotia Lost Fishing Vessels

HALIFAX (CP)—Two and three years ago when Nazi U-boats were ranging the coastal waters, at least one Nova Scotia fishing vessel was sunk by an undersea raider, and on more than one occasion fishermen were rammed and sunk in the shrouded seas by ocean-going ships of convoys headed for Britain.

In July, 1942, the 30-ton Lucile M. of Pockeport was shelled and sunk 100 miles off the coast by a Nazi submarine. Her crew of 11 escaped in dories, and made the long row to land with several of the men injured by shell fragments.

In the House of Commons Wednesday, J. J. Kinley, L. Queens-Lunenburg, while supporting fish floor prices legislation, said two fishing schooners were run down by convoys during this war. He added none were victims of U-boats.

The Lunenburg fisherman Flora Alberta, a two-year-old schooner, was rammed just before dawn on an April morning last year and 21 of her crew were lost.

Wilmington Suffers As Hurricane Hits On Carolina Coast

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A tropical hurricane apparently spent itself over the swamps of eastern North Carolina today after damaging Wilmington's beach resorts and temporarily paralyzing the city's utilities.

Waves of 40 feet high at times erased huge sand dunes at the summer resorts of Wrightsville Beach and Carolina Beach even as the Coast Guard and details from nearby Camp Davis, a military post, evacuated thousands of persons in the nick of time.

The storm refugees poured into Wilmington, normally a city of 40,000 swollen to double its population by shipbuilding and other war-related activities, and created an acute housing problem. Hundreds of them were taken in large convoys to Camp Davis.

Move to Protect Workers' Holidays

New regulations to protect workers' holiday claims were proposed by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at its meeting in the Labor Hall Wednesday night.

The council ordered a resolution sent to the Department of Munitions and Supply asking that employees laid off in industries under the department's jurisdiction, through no fault of the employee be allowed to carry their time to any new job under similar jurisdiction for the purpose of securing their holidays.

The meeting heard an outline of Workmen's Compensation Board activity from C. W. Pritchard, a member of the board.

Last year, cost of operating the board was $11,770,000, including pensions, medical aid and other benefits, Mr. Pritchard said. Workers had contributed $733,516 towards the expense, with employers making up the balance. B.C., he said, was the only province in Canada in which workers paid into the fund. Apart from that, he stated, the B.C. act was of the highest standard in the Dominion.

Mr. Pritchard said employers were subject to just as many regulations as were employees in accident and safety fields. Plants could be closed and had been closed for infringement of regulations.

He urged labor to study the act thoroughly to avoid misunderstandings.

OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS

The safety department was always open to suggestions from workers, he said, before deploring the ignorance of workers on first aid regulations.

Mr. Pritchard emphasized the necessity of reporting accidents without delay.

At present, he explained, 45 industrial diseases are handled by the board and now one are cropping up continually through changes in production methods and use of new substances.

Visual education was receiving the board's attention and safety films were being shown in industry.

The official reported 901 only of 68,000 applications for compensation had been rejected.

The meeting was informed by the department of education provision for study of trades unionism already exists in the high school curriculum.

C. Chivers reported on portable changing rooms built by the council for children at the parks and thanked carpenters and painters for their assistance in the project.

Decision was reached to send two delegates to the Vancouver Island Joint Labor Conference-Vancouver Industrial Reconstruction and Social Development Council rehabilitation conference here in October.

A resolution from Whitehorse, Y.P., hotel and restaurant employees union protesting the pay scale there, which the union reported to be only half that paid U.S. workers in similar occupations, was endorsed.

Zombies Wrangle With Active Men

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Active and Home Defence troops were wrangling on the streets of Vernon at midnight last night, although at no time did the outbreak reach the stage of an all-out brawl, Provost officers said today.

An acute housing problem. Hundreds of them were taken in large convoys to Camp Davis.

SPECTATORS at Monday night's box lacrosse game between Fletchers and Navy saw a record established and I'll wager majority of them were unaware of the fact. Lad who set up the mark was Joe Bryant, agile goalie for Fletchers. The previous week Bryant had stopped every shot that came his way in marking up an 8 to 0 shutout of the bluejackets. Monday night 13 minutes of play elapsed before the Navy managed to sink the ball in the net back of Bryant. In other words the young fellow had kept his net clear for 88 minutes at a record in any man's lacrosse league and I wouldn't be surprised if it's not the best performance anywhere in Canada. And the Navy team boasted plenty of good shots, with lads like Simpson and Travella, formerly of the famous Drifilla Torriers, firing the little white ball at Bryant. One of these boys was heard to remark: "I'm sure Bryant must have turned the net around."

VICTORIA'S 17th annual holiday lawn bowling tournament will open next week and secretary Alex Playfair has too many entries. It will be the greatest competition in the history of the association with players entered from all parts of the Pacific Northwest and as far south as Oakland. Since its inauguration the tournament has been growing in popularity every year until it has reached the stage where every green in the city will be utilized to accommodate the competitors. "Guess I must have advertised the affair too well," remarked Playfair.

FRITZ HOWELL, AP sports writer, tells this humorous story about Roy Cullenbine, current Cleveland outfielder. Back in 1937 Cullenbine was doing a pretty good job at bat and field for Toledo in the American Association, and appeared headed for the big time. One day fun-loving Fred Haney, Toledo manager, called Cullenbine aside just before the game and whispered: "Do your best out there today, Roy. A couple of scouts are in the stands and want to talk to you after the game."

CULLENBINE had a three for four day at the plate, made a couple of circus catches, and felt just a bit chummy as Haney led him to a box behind the Toledo dugout. "Roy," Haney said, "here are the scouts who wanted to meet you." And there, faces beaming, were two boys scouts in full uniform, looking worshipfully at their fuming fostered favorite.

A COUPLE of flying Swedes have proved the "impossible" four-minute mile is something one or both of them are liable to run whenever they both happen to be at their best and in the mood to fight each other all the way. So far they have cut the world record from 4:06.4 down to 4:01.6 in a matter of two years. Since Gunder Haegg set his 1942 mark at 4:04.6, Arne Andersson has chopped it, by stages, to 4:02.6 and now 4:01.6. Previous to 1943 Haegg always beat Andersson. Now, at the mile distance, Andersson is beating Haegg, yet Haegg is setting new world records at other distances. Since 1942 the two Swedes have been improving. Many figure that Haegg has the strength, power, speed and ability to run a mile under four minutes, and if Andersson can beat Haegg, then he can run it, too. If the two keep at it, without accident, through this season and next, one day we'll hear of a four-minute mile.

HERE ARE four more questions for the baseball you know department:

1. Why are there no pockets in a baseball uniform shirt?
2. What pitcher hurled a no-hitter in his major league debut?
3. What major league team suffered the greatest number of shutouts one season, and the least the following year?
4. Who was the only major league pitcher with a second division club to lead the league in winning percentage?

Penhold Cricketers Lose On Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cricketers from the Penhold and Moose Jaw R.A.F. depots lost by 86 runs in the first game of their five-game schedule here Wednesday when a strong Mainland League team beat them 228 to 142.

Capt. Alan Roughton and Wally Scott each made 45 runs for the Mainland League.

LAC George Meadows of Penhold hit up top score of 37 for the airmen; F.O. P. W. Clear, from the same depot, scored 22, and LAC R. Robson, Moose Jaw, ran up 21.

Rowing honors went to F.O. W. Roberts with four wickets for 48 runs, and to Pete Henson, for the Mainland League, with three wickets for 27 runs.

Dutton Continues As N.H.L. Director

TORONTO (CP)—Mervyn (Red) Dutton will direct the affairs of the National Hockey League again next season, it was stated Wednesday by E. W. Bickle, a member of the N.H.L. board of governors.

Mr. Bickle said he has received a telegram from Dutton, who was the league's managing director last season, saying he will be in Toronto in mid-August for a meeting of the rules committee and will be ready to take up his duties again.

Dutton, who now is in western Canada in connection with his contracting business, has directed the league's affairs since the death of Frank Calder in February, 1943.

Record Baseball Crowd for Navy Night

One of the most popular clubs in the senior ball circuit the Navy attracted a record attendance for a league fixture as the fans and league honored the senior service with "Navy Night" Wednesday evening. The Navy made it a perfect evening by turning back the Army 6 to 1. Portion of the large crowd, along with the Navy band under WO. Stan Sutherland, is pictured in the first base bleachers.

Lanier New Strikeout Leader

Tops Voiselle-Hughson

Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals reigned as strikeout king of the majors today, with his total of 104 victims boosting him past Bill Voiselle of the New York Giants and Tex Hughson of the Boston Red Sox.

The pudgy left-hander threw the third strike past seven Pittsburgh hitters Wednesday night as the Cards hammered out an 8 to 4 verdict to make their present road trip record 15 and 3 with three to go before reaching home.

Lanier's total of 104 strikeouts topped by three Voiselle's bag and was five more than Hughson required to pace the American League, where Hal Newhouser of Detroit was his closest competitor. If the Cards can break even in their remaining 38 games, second-place Cincinnati will grab the flag only by winning 46 out of 58, a goal some 200 points above their 1944 form.

As St. Louis snuffed Pittsburgh's smoldering pennant hopes at the start of a long home stand, the American League race marked time.

Chicago split a double-header with Philadelphia in the only action scheduled in the junior loop.

The Mackmen pulled the opener out of the fire, 9 to 3, on a seven-run ninth inning in which a triple by Bobby Estalella and doubles by Joe Burns and Hal Epps were the big blows.

Gordy Maltzberger saved Johnny Humphries' fifth win in the finale by stopping a Philadelphia threat as Chicago took a 7 to 3 edge. Tony Cucinello enjoyed a perfect game with four singles.

A Chicago-Philly game was postponed because of the Philadelphia transportation strike and all other clubs enjoyed an open date.

The Seattle Rainiers cashed in on a series of Oakland errors last night to bounce back into the Coast Baseball League win column with a double victory, 5 to 4 and 6 to 1.

The Acoons committed five bobbles in each game. An overthrow by Bill Raimondi permitted Seattle to tally the winning score in the 13th frame of the scheduled seven-inning opener. A series of errors allowed three Rainier scores in the second inning of the nightcap.

Lefty Ray Prim scored his 15th win over the season and his fifth shutout as Los Angeles beat Portland twice. Prim's 4-hit hurling in the opener won for the Angels, 3 to 0. Ten hits off three Portland hurlers, including two home runs, won the second, 6 to 5.

Clem Dreisewerd, leading Coast League hurler, chalked up his 18th win against seven losses as Gals Out in Force At Army-Navy Game; Those Lovely Wrens!

By ANNETTE SEYWRIGHT

Taking in a hardball game for a change proved to be a treat for this sports loving gal.

Away to one evening from the battling women's football bouts, I had a chance to discover that almost half the whooping big crowd at the Army-Navy game last evening were the weaker sex.

Some of us became very excitable, while others sat still and said nothing. There were women of all ages and walks of life.

Mothers, sweethearts and sisters, all getting the greatest enjoyment watching these men perform better.

She who sat next to me and who cheered for the Navy, said she only missed three games in two years. She seemed to know the boys by their first names and managed to give me the lowdown on some of the previous games.

"Why I'm no sissy," she said, "I'd much rather watch these lads play than go to a bridge game."

She was a sweet soul, and more than likely had a boy in uniform somewhere.

Right behind me sat a gent, who could have been a furnace expert, and who dragged at his pipe continually, sending a smoke-screen like the London fog, clapping his hands while sparks flew all over my hair.

Next to him sat two young fries, who kept kicking their feet up in the air, and screaming their heads off for the Army.

About three rows behind me sat a southern lady with her southern friend, smoking a baby sized cigar, applauding both teams.

At the other end where the Wrens made their nests, and where the Navy band roosted, cheering was the loudest, and at times sounded as though thousand of wasps zoomed in during an auction sale (lucky-estricite style).

The Wrens looked lovely in their blue uniforms, and as for the band it simply took our hearts.

Local Swimmers Win At Kelowna

Take Four B.C. Titles

KELOWNA (CP)—Two upsets marked the opening day of Kelowna's 38th International Regatta here Wednesday. Winniepeg's Catherine Kerr defeated Shirley Muir of Vancouver in the women's open 100-yard freestyle event, and Doris Geldard of Toronto, star of the recent Canadian championships meet at Vancouver, was defeated by Gwen Causton of Toronto in the 50-yard junior girls' breaststroke event.

Miss Muir placed second and Barbara Hunt placed third in the 100-yard freestyle British Columbia championship event won by Miss Kerr; Ina Salomon of Victoria, placed second in the 50-yard event, with champion Geldard coming in third.

An army team from Brantford, Ont., lost the 300-yard men's medley relay to Archie McKinnon's Victoria team, with a Vancouver team placing third.

McKinnon's Flying "Y" splashers from Victoria turned in a brilliant exhibition as they captured three other provincial titles and topped five seconds.

Spencers Win Cricket

By the margin of 30 runs, 97 to 67, Spencers defeated H.C.S. Givenchy in a cricket match Wednesday. Baker with 29 runs was high bat for the winners, followed by Harper with 20. Wood put on 33 to lead the sailors.

With the fine average of four wickets for five runs, Oakman was number one trundler for Spencers. Taking five for 26, Wood had the best average for the Navy.

Dalkeith Shows Pair of Heels In Hastings Handicap

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dalkeith, veteran bay mare, won the featured Canadian championship at Hastings Park in the fifth race Wednesday, picking up $1,100 of a $1,500 purse and combining with Pinch Conard in the fourth for the season's largest daily double—$25.45.

Dalkeith jumped into the lead from the start and under a good ride from Harvey Duncan was permitted to set her own pace. Challenged in the final quarter by Patage, the winner held on gamely and went under the wire in front by a whisker.

Jockey Ike Bassett, up on Teeworth, lost a stirrup and could not get the best out of his mount. The first double of the day, Avondale King in the first and Simony's Boy in the second, brought $108.35 to holders of the lucky combination tickets at the pari-mutuel wickets.

McCormick Ranking First Baseman In Major League Ball

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank McCormick of Cincinnati Reds is about the best first baseman in the major leagues.

In his first full year with the Reds, 1938, McCormick made 209 hits in 640 times at bat, both high for the loop, and batted .326. He joined the select group of players who made 200 or more hits in their freshman year. The next year he duplicated his 209-hit total, again to lead the league in the most runs, 128.

In 1940 he added the doubles title, and for the third time in succession led the league in hits.

In his first five years with the Reds, McCormick drove in 617 runs, more than any of the other top sluggers of the circuit in the corresponding period. McCormick has the unique distinction of being selected for the National League all-star team in each of his seven years in the majors.

This year Frank got off to a bad start. After hovering around the 270 mark for the first half of the season, he staged a batting spree to climb to a point over 300. In the past two weeks he made 22 hits in 64 times at bat for a .344 average, and batted in 21 runs.

Tommy Tuckers In Softball Final

In the wide open spaces of Central Park Tommy Tuckers stepped into the finals of the men's senior A fastball play-offs and now sit calmly waiting for the winners of the R.C.A.F. Army game tonight. The score was Tuckers 2, Douglas Tires 1, and at many stages of the game a hit would have meant the money.

Billsborough, doing the heavy work for the Tucker crew, pitched his first game in weeks, and displayed plenty of control. He struck out three, and walked two. Gar Taylor for Douglas Tires had only one strike-out and walked two.

Tuckers got down to business in the first frame. Erickson singled; McLellan popped up, and Andrews went all the way to 3rd on Travis' error as Erickson scored.

Erickson was again the danger man in the third with a single over second. McLellan walked while Andrews was safe on a fielder's choice. Perkins singled to bring in McLellan.

Tires' lone reply came in the fourth, when with two down Toad Garnett singled. Harnett did likewise, and Garnett came in from second.

Army Searchlight defeated Brentwood Aces 19 to 5 to reach the C section final against K.V.'s. Short score for the senior game follows:

Tommy Tuckers 2 7 1
Douglas Tires 1 5 2
Batteries—Billsborough and Kennedy; Taylor and Book.

At Summer School For Certificates

Four hundred of the 750 teachers registered at the Summer School of Education are working for their first class permanent certificates according to figures released by Dr. C. B. Conway, director of the school.

Of these approximately 200 will be granted their certificates this year, having already within the past five years attended at least one other session of the school. The other 200 will have to come for another course sometime within the next four years in order to obtain their certificates.

This is a condition laid down by the Department of Education. Students who graduate from Normal School must attend at least two Summer School sessions within five years of graduation to obtain their permanent certificates.

The students this year have been taking brush-up courses; approximately 110 have been working for certificates as primary specialists; 50 for physical education certificates; 50 for music; 40 for industrial arts; 30 in library work; 40 in art and 20 in commercial work.

In commenting on the session Dr. Conway said: "It is very gratifying to the Department of Education to realize what a small percentage attend the Summer School just to pass away the time. We have had more students in the practical field, and they have turned out more and better work than ever before."

The records also disclosed that the average number of courses taken this year was more than three per student. In 1941 the average per student was 2.5 courses; last year it was 2.9 and this year it is slightly more than three.

A recent survey shows that American women are overwhelmingly in favor of national legislation requiring premarital and prenatal blood tests.

CODY EARNED TITLE OF "BUFFALO BILL" BY SHOOTING BISON

When William Cody was 21 years old, he was given a new job. He was to supply fresh meat to 1,000 men who were working on the Kansas Pacific Railway line. Soon he started to earn $500 per month by shooting enough buffaloes, or bison, to feed the workmen.

Each day Cody watched for a buffalo herd. With him he had only a single helper, a butcher who followed with a wagon to take the meat to camp.

One day Cody met a band of five American army officers. They also were buffalo hunting, and all were mounted. Not knowing the sharpshooting scout, they told him he could join their party, and might possibly get a shot.

Soon a small herd of 11 buffaloes were seen. Cody quickly rode toward a creek, feeling sure the animals would go that way for water. Within a few minutes he shot every buffalo in the herd, using only 12 bullets to finish his work! The army officers were amazed, and one of them asked: "What is your name?"

"I'm Bill Cody," he replied. "I shoot buffaloes to provide meat for the railway men."

Partly because of that incident, people began to call this scout "Buffalo Bill." Yet the name had not been won for all time. There was another Bill who was noted as a hunter of buffaloes. He was William Comstock, the chief of scouts at Fort Wallace.

Friends of Bill Comstock said that he, not Cody, ought to have the title of Buffalo Bill. So it came about that a match was planned. Whoever shot the most buffaloes in eight hours was to be the winner.

Leckie Visits Island Bases

Men of the R.C.A.F., especially the ground crews, are receiving a fine training in trades which will help them get good jobs when they are demobilized, Air Marshal Robert Leckie of Ottawa, chief of Canadian air staff, said today at a Vancouver Island R.C.A.F. base.

"The public can rest assured that these men will be given every opportunity," he said when questioned on the rehabilitation of R.C.A.F. personnel returning from overseas.

"There are plans now being made to obtain all the assistance necessary for these boys who have done such a grand job in winning the war."

"So far we have not had much actual experience with rehabilitation as the men are coming back only one by one, or, at most, a small group at a time, and we are experiencing no difficulty in taking care of them."

"Our real problems will arise when larger numbers are demobilized."

Mrs. Chas. E. Peabody Dies at Seattle Home

Mrs. Charles E. Peabody, 74, widow of the founder of the Alaska Steamship Company and the Puget Sound Navigation Company, died Wednesday at her Seattle home.

She had been a frequent visitor to Victoria, staying with the late Mrs. J. W. Troup and Mrs. E. J. Palmer, 1021 Gillespie Place.

Mrs. Peabody was born Aug. 3, 1870, at Grinnell, Ont., and was educated in Montreal and France. From 1888 to 1891, Mrs. Peabody, as Lilly McAulay, lived in Victoria with her father, the late William J. McAulay, a prominent Northwest lumberman. She was married in 1891 to Mr. Peabody and moved to Port Townsend, where her husband owned the city docks.

Mrs. Peabody leaves eight sons—Charles M., Folger, Capt. Alexander M., Norman Penfield, Gerard, Enoch Wood, Laurence B. and Duane; 21 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Vets and Scottish Set 'Killing Ground' In Mine Fields

A good deal of dirt flew this morning as the 3rd (R.) Bn., Canadian Scottish Regiment, and Veterans Guards dug weapon slits (slit trenches) to establish a "killing ground" at Gordon Head.

A "killing ground" is an area over which enemy troops are forced by judicious placing of wire and mines. By this means, troops are able to get the enemy where the full force of fire may be brought to bear on him. If he won't go to the "killing ground," he has to choose the wires and mines. It is a defensive set-up.

Later, the troops prodded the mine fields to detect the "hidden death." There were two types of mines with which to contend: The ordinary canister mine which will disable a vehicle with little trouble, and the booby trap, set off by trip wires or other hidden snares, to kill or wound personnel.

The mines, outfitted with detonators, kicked up a lot of dust, made even more noise, but did no damage.

LONG DISTANCE SIGHTING
In the afternoon, the Scottish and Veterans' Guard went out for sighting on targets, which may be as far distant as 2,000 yards, and include such target areas as houses, cross roads, bushes, or any place which might allow passage or concealment of enemy troops.

Tomorrow, the two units will go on an all-day scheme. They will be attached to theoretical infantry to which they will give covering fire with their machine guns and assist on the flanks.

In the afternoon, they will take up defensive positions, again co-ordinating with the theoretical infantry. Consolidation of defence will be stressed. Although the Scottish are getting a good deal out of it, it is possible that the Veterans' Guard are getting an even bigger kick out of it. It's just another case of the old war-horse smelling powder smoke again... there is no stopping them.

This morning, the No. 2 Group, No. 11 Reserve, Divisional Ordnance Workshop, R.C.O.C., took out a truck and turned it over in a ditch eight feet below road level as part of their training. This afternoon, a recovery crew attended, hauled out the truck, serviced it, and drove it back to camp.

The Prince Rupert Regiment worked its way through the Up-lands this morning, setting up defensive positions.

Tomorrow evening, there will be a men's smoker and Sunday the units will be "at home."

WESTBOUND ON THE LIMITED and believe me, they sure know their equipment! "Ah, now I get it! But you've got nothing on us—we use KIWI at home. An old country horseman first told me about it—how it replaces the natural fats in leather, stops heat from drying it out and damp and rotting it. Sure gives a fine shine, too!"

"Like a mirror, Mr. Murdoch. Since I saw you last I've been waist high in snow up at Abitibi. Landing and burnt up in the Alberta foothills—yet these boots are in better shape now than when I left."

"Rupert, a year ago—thanks to KIWI!"

"Gosh! KIWI's even better than thought!"

KIWI's Canada's Favourite shoe polish—shiner, lasts in all weather conditions.

ASH COAT BRENTWOOD
Ash nuisance from the new Brentwood coal plant of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., subject of protest by residents of the district, is largely a war condition. A. T. Goward, company vice-president, said today.

Residents have objected on the grounds the residue belches from chimneys of the plant and settles on homes, gardens, cars and boats.

"War conditions," said Mr. Goward, "prevent us from securing at all times the proper grade of coal for our new Brentwood plant. Lack of water power, arising from the unusually dry season, and oil restrictions force us to maintain the coal-burning plant in continuous operation."

Consequently, to provide the power which is essential for the area, we have to use the most suitable coal we can get. Unfortunately the fuel we are obliged to use at times has a high ash content. The condition will be very much improved when we can return to the use of the coal for which the plant is suited."

Ask Wage Boost
The City Hall Employees' Association, inside staff organization, meeting Wednesday night called for immediate action by the City Council to implement the salary schedule by-law and asked for a 10 per cent wage increase independent of any raises the by-law might provide.

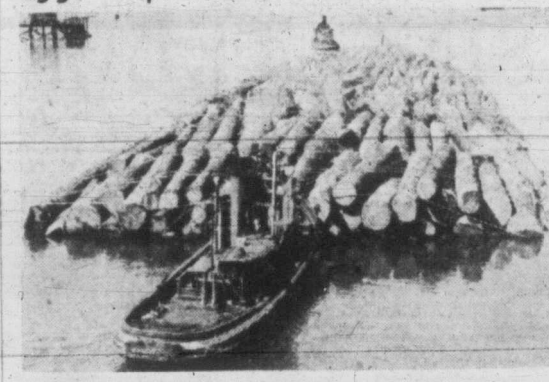

Letters will go to the City Council seeking action on those two points.

Endorsement was given a Vancouver civic employees' move to have minimum service pensions for all civic employees raised from $30 to $50 a month. Delegates attending the Grand Council convention here Oct. 23 to 29 were instructed to support that stand.

The association named J. Whitcomb and W. G. Frampton delegates to the meeting with M. F. Hunter and R. H. Smith alternates.

Addresses were given by W. M. Black, president and organizer of

Biggest Spruce Raft Delivered Here

Containing 1,800,000 feet of high grade spruce logs which will go into airplane manufacture, this huge Davis raft, consigned to Spruce Products Ltd. from the Queen Charlotte Islands, was towed into the Inner Harbor Tuesday. The previous largest spruce raft brought here contained 1,600,000 feet. The raft is now being broken down and the logs will go through the Dalziel and A. Y. Johnstone mills here. The spruce will go into the construction of the famed Mosquitoes.

'Counselling Service' Being Built for Soldiers

There must be jobs for the fit and the unfit must be fitted for jobs, Dr. G. M. Weir, acting director of training, Department of National Health, today told the Rotary Club at luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

The former B.C. Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary, now resident in Ottawa, gave Rotarians some of the plans of the government for rehabilitation of returned men and women.

From various studies, he said, it has been estimated there will be well over 1,000,000 new jobs in the early postwar period, but he stressed that men must be trained to take those jobs.

After this war soldiers, sailors and airmen will be made grants for rehabilitation, not loans as after the last war, Dr. Weir said. Such grants will be available for training to all discharged people, not only to the disabled, as after the last war.

One out of 13 in the armed forces knows exactly what he wants to do after the war, Dr. Weir said. Of almost 350,000 men and women in uniform interviewed, 27,000 knew just what they would need after the war.

TO OLD JOBS
It is anticipated, Dr. Weir said, one-half or more will return to former positions being held open for them by private employers. The remainder must be helped by the government and his department, Dr. Weir said, adding "we're building up a strong counselling service."

He said educational training programs for Canadian soldiers are the most liberal in the world. According to length of service, veterans are to be given training with pay of $50 a month, if single and free tuition fees if in the public interest such training can be continued until graduation and into post-graduate work.

Dr. Weir said 80 per cent of the simpler skills are best learned on the job, and because of this co-operation between industry and government will be necessary in rehabilitation schemes.

"There is a consensus among business executives, as among psychologists, that training in plant schools—which are not formal schools, but do provide a measure of instruction and supervision of trainees by plant foremen or supervisors—and corresponding training in regular vocational schools, as administered by boards of trustees, are complementary," Dr. Weir said.

"After the last war more than 50 per cent of those given vocational training were trained, with fair success, in plant schools. Moreover, psychologists agree that more than 80 per cent of the simpler skills are best learned on the job, with supplementary training, if feasible, in the plant school or in the local vocational school."

"According to the majority of industrialists, whose opinions are based on solid preference, the chief attribute of the vocational school is that it provides general training—theory, plus shop work in a reasonably efficient manner. This basic or background training is alleged to be more concentrated and thorough than the training provided solely on the job."

"These views are in conformity with those of industrial psychologists, who recommend that both types of training should be used wherever feasible. For example, in some cases those learning on the job in the daytime might avail themselves of the opportunity to attend late afternoon or evening classes in the local vocational or technical school."

Dr. Weir spent an hour today talking rehabilitation matters with Premier John Hart. He will confer with other members of the B.C. cabinet before leaving for Ottawa on Saturday.

Reception for City's Latest D.S.O. Winner
A civic reception is in store for Sqn. Ldr. J. R. "Jack" McDonald, D.S.O., D.F.C., R.C.A.F., outstanding Victoria oarsman, basketball and Canadian rugby player, when he reaches home in the near future.

Meeting today, the city finance committee accepted a recommendation to that effect from Ald. W. H. Davies, but definite plans were left in abeyance owing to uncertainty over the arrival date.

News of the D.S.O. awarded the popular Victorian, was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McDonald, 6331 Langford Street, in the form of a telegram from Sqn. Ldr. McDonald's commanding officer.

"Heartiest congratulations on the immediate award of the Distinguished Service Order. Very best of luck," the message said.

This week Mrs. McDonald received a telegram from her son saying he had reached Ottawa and would be home in a week or two. His mother voiced opinion he was probably trying to contact his sister, LAW. Helen McDonald, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), and brother LAC. William McDonald, R.C.A.F., in eastern Canada, before proceeding to Victoria.

He returned to Canada after completing his second operational tour.

Prior to joining the air force, Jack starred for the J.B.A.A., stroking the P.N.W. champion four, and winning a place on the British Empire Games team which went to Australia.

He enlisted here in Feb., 1941, went overseas the following October, and received his D.F.C. in 1942.

the Canadian Joint Council of Public Employees, B.C. Division, and G. H. Perrie, president of the Vancouver Island Regional Council.

Another meeting will be held Sept. 4.

Liquor Commissioner W. F. Kennedy returned today from Ottawa where he went on Liquor Control Board business. He said he was unable to discuss his business for publication.

One motorist was fined $15 for speeding, a second $5 for failing to produce a driver's license, and six others were fined $2.50 each for parking offences in city court today. Charged with intoxication, one man pleaded guilty and was fined $25 or six days.

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor; Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labor; George Haythorne and Earl Kitchen will collaborate in a nation-wide broadcast tomorrow evening at 6.15, pointing out the grave necessity of every Canadian man and woman co-operating in getting in the 1944 crop. CJVI will carry the broadcast.

Union Chief Scores Leaders of Strike In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia by the thousands walked or hitch-hiked to their jobs in a drizzling rain today as the city looked to the White House to end a three-day-old transportation tie-up that slashed war production and caused clashes between white men and negroes.

The rain kept racial disorders at a low ebb Wednesday night, and no fighting had been reported since midnight. Extra police details, however, were on duty.

Up-grading of eight negro employees under a directive of President Roosevelt's fair employment practices committee precipitated the walkout, which appeared almost certain to culminate in government seizure of the Philadelphia Transportation Company, with possible use of troops.

Police Wednesday night reported a new wave of window smashings, which they attributed to negro youths, as a two-hour move by a small group of P.T.C. employees to restore service on Philadelphia's two subway lines ended in failure.

An official of the Transport Workers' Union (C.I.O.) said back-to-work appeals to the 6,000 employees had "only a ghost of a chance" to succeed, "harring a big break in Washington." Government seizure, he agreed, would be such a "break."

Inter-racial clashes stemming from the work stoppage sent at least 13 persons to hospital before Wednesday's steady rain drove wandering bands of rioters indoors.

But the downpour also contributed to a transport snarl that kept 140,000 of the area's 800,000 war workers from their jobs, the War Manpower Commission reported, and caused a central city business decline estimated by a retail trade spokesman at $1,000,000 a day.

James J. Fitzsimon, T.W.U. international vice-president, asserted "a small group of self-seeking, disgruntled" employees were "trying to regain power over the dead bodies of American soldiers."

At least a dozen draft boards announced they were reclassifying into I-A a total of more than 300 idle workers.

Industrial Clerks' Union has been certified as bargaining agency for eligible workers at Yarrow's Ltd., Daniel O'Brien, C.C.L. regional director, said here Wednesday.

Victoria Labor Council has endorsed the Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers at Halifax for its action in the strike now in progress there in a wire which commends the restraint shown by the union.

Closing exercises of Belmont Vacation School will be held in Belmont United Church, Friday at 2.30. Diplomas will be presented and there will be a short program and demonstration of the pupils' handiwork.

Stanley L. Cotton, 23, of Victoria, died Wednesday on a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train near Carberry, Man., while en route to Vancouver. Carberry is 90 miles west of Winnipeg.

Victoria and municipal fire departments answered calls to four fires over the night. One fire, in a defective sawdust burner at 527 Constance Avenue, early today, was put out by Esquimalt firemen before any damage was done. The others were small grass fires.

The city finance and legislative committee, meeting today, ordered a letter sent to the Minister of Municipal Affairs asking him if insurance money from the Willows fire could be used to help finance a new arena. The inquiry was requested by the City Council.

C.F.A. planes operating in this region have instruction to avoid flying over the city. E. R. R. Field, superintendent for the B.C. district, informed the city by letter today. His communication was a reply to a request from the city asking the company to have its planes fly over water in case of accident. When the planes have to fly over the city, the pilots have been instructed to keep them at an altitude which would allow them to clear land if both their engines failed, Mr. Field said.

Labor Dispute
J. C. Cosgrove, business agent of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' Local No. 2, announced today that he had asked the Department of Labor, under Labor Code P.C. 1003, to investigate a labor dispute between members of the union and Yarrow's Ltd.

Mr. Cosgrove claims the union agreement has been broken over the award of "dirty money," which is the term used to designate pay rates of one and one-quarter time which can be claimed by a worker who must work under cramped or other unfavorable conditions.

King Flies Home After Italy Visit

LONDON (CPI)—King George returned to Britain by air today after a 10-day absence during which he toured the battlefields and reviewed various forces—including members of the Canadian Corps in Italy.

Both the return and outbound trips were uneventful. Escorted by fighters, the King's big plane landed at Naples July 24. The plane arrived back in England today.

While in Italy the monarch inspected the front lines north of Rome, on one occasion watching British artillery shelling the foe at Anzio, visited the battle-grounds at Anzio and Cassino, and conferred knighthood on Lt. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, British-Canadian 8th Army commander.

While visiting the Canadian Corps last Monday he conferred the ribbon and medal of the Victoria Cross on Maj. John Keefer Mahony of New Westminster, B.C., and reviewed several Canadian units, stopping to talk with officers and men.

Wakey! Wakey! Wakey! Gets Sea Cadets Up in Morning

By ALLAN JENKINS

Victoria Sea Cadets, now on their two-week summer camp at Whytecliffe, Vancouver, have awakened for the last two days, and will awaken for the remainder of their stay there, with good old naval tradition ringing in their ears.

It is the cry of "Lash up and stow," "Lash up and stow, Wakey, wakey!" This in itself is not complete, as much may be added by the quarter-master.

One call, for instance, went "Out or down there! Out or down there! All hands rouse out, rouse out, rouse out. Lash and carry, lash and carry, show a leg or else a purple stocking. Rouse and shine. Lash up and stow, lash up and stow." To this, a boatswain's mate or quarter-master might add the little verse, "Rise and shine; the morning's fine; you've had your time and I've had mine."

Many of the words in this call have a direct bearing on ship life. The call, "Out or down there," meaning either get out of the hammock or be prepared to be cut down.

The request to "Show a leg or else a purple stocking," was used in the days when women were allowed aboard ship. A leg thrust over the side would prove sex and, as they were exempt from turning out until "Guard and Steerage," they would have no fear of being cut down from their hammocks.

Old salts would inject comments, on the weather, or the fact that the coastline was off the starboard bow. "See the ship come from China loaded with tea," or "There's a whale alongside," might tumble the seamen on to their feet more quickly.

In Canadian naval stations, and on ships, many an enterprising quarter-master will read or hear the early morning news, and then give such excerpts as he wishes along with his "wakey, wakey." Once in a while, however, one may become a little too enterprising and the officer of the day is called upon to tone him down a little.

In the army it is reveille on the bugle, but the soldiers have provided their own words for the call in this case, too. Common words for the call were, "I had

Officers to Tour NE. Staging Route

OTTAWA (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe said today in the Commons he appreciated the possible significance of the North-east Staging Route to postwar civil aviation.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre, had directed the minister's attention to a request from Manitoba and Winnipeg officials to be represented on a tour of the route by Canadian and United States officials which they understood was to be in the nature of an investigation of post-war possibilities.

Mr. Howe said the contemplated tour was purely military in character and was in the nature of an inspection by Canadian officials of some of the new facilities recently taken over from the U.S. forces.

'Lubitsch Touch' Gets Technicolor

Now audiences will see the famed "Lubitsch touch" in technicolor.

For the first time in his long and memorable Hollywood career, Ernst Lubitsch has produced and directed a picture in technicolor.

"Heaven Can Wait," now at the York Theatre, is a spicy, gay, romantic comedy of the naughty nineties, which has lovely Gene Tierney and Don Ameche at the head of a large featured cast. Lubitsch personally selected the film for his first color production and his initial assignment for 20th Century-Fox.

All the color that put the sparkle in grandpa's eye during that colorful period of the past has been captured by the camera, and to this has been added the frank, frivolous touch of the deft hand of the unmatched Lubitsch.

New Star Appears In 'Lost Angel'

A tender and human comedy, full of laughter and just a few tears, is now playing at the Atlas Theatre. The film is M-G-M's "Lost Angel," starring moppet Margaret O'Brien, the wonder child who will forever be remembered by moviegoers for her poignant portrayal of the title role in "Journey for Margaret."

This time Margaret stars in a comedy about a child who is raised as a prodigy by a group of professors and thinks she is happy until an irresponsible reporter, played by James Craig, enters her tiny sphere and captures her imagination with a promise to show her magic.

Craig learns a valuable lesson which enables him to find happiness with his torch singer sweetheart, played by Marsha Hunt, and the young genius becomes a normal, healthy, happy child, aware of all the wonders of childhood.
